Adaptability to Different Styles

The four pure behavioral styles exist on comparative continuums with each other. The four behavioral tendencies scales illustrate the degree of adaptation that is required for effective communication as they match your response to Sample behavioral style.

Sample's strongest behavioral style (i.e., highest plotting point) is marked with the ✓ symbol.

If you have completed your own DiSC® Profile, plot your highest DiSC style on each of the four scales with an "X." The degree of difference indicates how much you will need to adapt to communicate with Sample in her comfort zone.

Suggestions for Interaction

Sample's strongest behavioral style (i.e., highest plotting point), based on your responses, is shown in the shaded column. When developing your Action Plan (page 6) for her, review the suggestions provided below for each approach in the sales process.

	D STRONGEST	i	S	C
▼ Process	Dominance	Influence	Steadiness	Conscientiousness
PLANNING: Focus on –	Goal of control over her environment.	How your product or service increases her influence with and approval by others.	Step-by-step approach for maintaining stability while improving results.	Performance record of your product or service. Be logical, accurate, and specific.
OPENING: To put her at ease –	Limit socializing. Get to the point. Relate to the goal of results.	Be casual and friendly. Relate to her feelings or aspirations.	Be informal and low pressure, but methodical.	Get to business swiftly, but tactfully. Don't invade her "space." Let her be the expert.
INTERVIEWING: Be –	Results-oriented. Focus on questions that surface concerns for desired results. Anticipate WHAT questions.	Enthusiastic. Ask open-ended questions to reveal motivations. Anticipate WHO questions.	Sincere. Focus on questions that demonstrate concern for tasks and relationships. Anticipate HOW questions.	Businesslike. Ask questions that allow her to express knowledge, strategies, and apprehensions. Anticipate WHY questions.
PRESENTING: In features and benefits –	Emphasize efficiency, savings, and profits.	Emphasize how she will save effort and look good to others.	Emphasize how she will maintain a predictable and harmonious environment.	Emphasize the accuracy, logic, and quality of the solution.
RESPONDING TO CONCERNS:	Accept her bluntness. Show your desire to help her achieve added results.	Respond to her feelings or doubts with empathy. Use testimonials of others' success.	Acknowledge her feelings. Offer ongoing support. May need to probe for real concerns.	Respond with information to most pressing questions. Reinforce logic, provide evidence to reassure.
GAINING COMMITMENT:	Provide options. Allow her to make the decision. Make direct close.	Use an upbeat approach. Provide ideas for implementing action. Use assumed close.	Support her decision by providing step-by-step actions. Seek a firm commitment without pushing.	Acknowledge her demand for logical action. Clarify priorities. Use direct close after time for consideration.
SERVICING: She will expect –	Efficiency and delivery as discussed. Follow up with evidence of results.	Actions to spare her effort or complications. Be responsive, informal, and open in your dealings.	Personal attention, availability, and repeated, scheduled follow-up to assure stability.	Specific assurances for reliability. Review periodically, verbally and in writing.
